QVH update

Improvements to Queen Victoria Hall (QVH) continued through October, including repairs to the exterior steps, installation of a new flat roof over the men's toilets, and an upgraded fire alarm system. Plans are in place to improve the hall curtains, paint the inside of the gents toilets and paint the railings and gate.

The Trustees of QVH are very keen to get YOUR opinions on how you use the hall, and what they can do to improve your experience. Your ideas may help the trustees to work out what works well and what doesn't, and what improvements could be made. Tell them what you think.

Why be a councillor?

We've asked some of our councillors to share their stories, to illustrate what inspired them to serve their local community. This month, we showcase Councillor David Fuller who joined the council in 2010, and amongst many other successes worked closely with the Oundle Business Association to deliver the highly successful Queen's Platinum and Diamond Jubilee town events and was involved in getting the digital signage boards in the town centre and outside Fletton House and Waitrose.

You too can be part of our story, helping identify and implement those things which we can do as a council, for the town. See www.local.gov.uk/be-councillor

Discover Your Community

Oundle has had a open-air market since before 972AD and we're pleased this well loved tradition continues offering locals the opportunity to buy something different whilst attracting visitors to explore our beautiful historic town. The Thursday weekly market held in the Market Place has a delightful mix of vibrant and passionate market traders ready to sell you their goods. Watch out for their market profiles coming soon to our Facebook page @www.oundle.gov.uk

Did you know?

In 1565, a survey was carried out on Oundle which listed street by street all the properties in the town. It shows that the layout of Oundle has changed little over the last 400 years. Some street names have changed, but others – such as Mill Road and Jericho – have not. The site of the Jesus Church was known as Chapel End, after the chapel of Saint Thomas of Canterbury, which had stood there in medieval times. The survey also contains an interesting reference to the hall of the pre-Reformation guild of Our Lady of Oundle, which had been purchased by “Mr Laxton somtyme maior of London”.
